THREE DIPHTHERIA CASES REPORTED

Two Adults and One Child, all Living on Middle street, Suffering from Diphtheria. Two Cases Reported this Morning.

Three cases of diphtheria have made their appearance in Gettysburg. The patients are Mrs. George Rosensteel, Mrs. James Weikert and her four year old son.

Mrs. Rosensteel lives at Round Top but is now quarantined at the home of her mother, Mrs. Louis Minnich, on West Middle street. She complained for several days of sore throat before a physician was summoned and pronounced the disease diphtheria. The home was immediately quarantined by the Board of Health and all necessary precautions taken to prevent a spread of the disease. Mrs. Rosensteel is getting along nicely and is expected to recover rapidly from her sickness which so far has been of a mild nature.

This morning Mrs. Weikert and her son were found to be suffering with the same ailment. A six year old son had complained earlier in the week of sore throat but he was not treated by a physician. While he was having this discomfort in the throat he played with a whistle which his younger brother also used and the disease developed until it was diagnosed diphtheria this morning, the mother also being afflicted in the same way.

Here, too, the Board of Health placarded the house and followed the usual steps of informing the family of the proper way to combat the disease and to guard others from contracting the infection.

SUNDAY SCHOOL WORKERS' PARADE

Parade of County Sunday School Workers with Several Bands will be Special Feature of Coming Convention in Biglerville.

The Adams County Sunday School convention will be held in the Lutheran Church at Biglerville on August 21st and 22nd.

The convention promises to be an unusually good one this year. Big preparations are being made by the committees in charge of the affair. Rev. George Dowe, of Scranton, will be present during the entire convention and discuss all departments of the Sunday School work. Rev. Mr. Dowe is one of the State Field Force and is widely known over the State as one of the best Sunday School workers on the force. The evening addresses will be made by Rev. J. B. Baker, Dr. J. A. Clutz and Rev. W. K. Fleck. Mrs. Burger will have charge of the mission period and will have with her a splendid exhibit of curios from India.

L. L. Taylor will have charge of the music, which means that it will be the best.

Two new features of the convention will be an alumni luncheon for all the Teacher Training graduates in the county, and a large Sunday School parade. Sunday School men and women and boys and girls from all over the county will take part in the parade, and several bands from different parts of the county.

Adams County still holds its position in the front line in the State Association work and the officers are working hard to bring the county up to the advanced standard which the state has adopted this year.

Biglerville is easily reached from all parts of the county and it is hoped that the convention this year will be the largest in the history of organized Sabbath School work in the county.

SAYS HE STOLE WAR-TIME HONEY

George D. Thorn Gets Confession from Man who Robbed Hives during the Battle. Paying off the Railroads. Tricks Veteran.

Here is an echo of the recent reunion. Among those who attended was George D. Thorn, chief clerk in the State Department, who, at the time of the battle, lived with his parents in the little home at the cemetery, of which his father was superintendent.

Mr. Thorn was at his old home on the third day of the reunion, and was informed that a veteran had been hunting some member of the family that occupied the cemetery house to pay for some onions he had stolen on the night of the big fight. He said he would prefer to meet some of the Confederate soldiers who on the night after the battle upset eight beehives and appropriated the honey that the Thorn family was calculating on using during the coming winter. His remark was published broadcast.

This week Mr. Thorn received a letter marked Fairfax, Va., which contained a newspaper clipping of the story, and underneath was written: "The undersigned was one of the party of eight."

This was signed by L. R. Hechens, Company H, Fifth Virginia Cavalry, C. S. A., who now lives at Fairfax, and remembered how he helped to raid the Thorn beehives at the time of the big fight. Mr. Thorn has calculated that, with beehives worth $15 at the time his father's were destroyed by the Confederates, the pay for the eight, with compound interest, would amount at present to about $3000; but, of course, he has no expectation of being reimbursed.

J. H. Williams, a veteran of Gettysburg, and J. M. Newell, a neighbor, both of Wichita, Kansas, have been fighting in the courts for years over the boundary line between their farms south of that city. Williams has prevented Newell getting the line surveyed, once standing off a surveying party at the point of a gun.

When the veterans rallied at Gettysburg this month Williams packed his grip and came. While he was away Newell hired surveyors and ran the boundary line. The veteran has not returned and neighbors are a bit apprehensive over what will happen when he finds the surveyors' stakes along the disputed boundary line.

Colonel Lewis E. Beidler, secretary of the Gettysburg semi-centennial commission, is working on the settling up of accounts for the big reunion which attracted the commendation of every State for its thorough arrangements.

Much of the work now under way is settlement of accounts with railroads for the transportation of veterans and to and from the battlefield and the colonel has found there are no less than seventy-six touching Pennsylvania which have carried veterans. Eighteen of these have been paid, one of them receiving but eighty cents as its account.

An immense amount of detail has been handled and it has fallen upon Colonel Beidler to dispose of. The accounts with Uncle Sam for the big camp are almost out of the way.

The legislature also added several amendments to the school code as follows:

Section 1125 was amended with the provision that county commissioners shall provide for county superintendent and assistant superintendents "postage other than that connected with the annual county institute."

Section 1412, providing for the education of inmates of orphan asylums, children's homes, etc., was amended so that boards of school directors of any school district in which there is located any orphan asylum, home for friendless children, etc., shall permit children who are inmates of such homes to attend the public schools either with or without charge. When such education is charged for, it shall not exceed the cost of tuition, text books and supplies. Such cost shall be paid to the district in which such institution is located by the district of which the respective pupils are legal residents.

DEMOCRATS SEE TARIFF SURPLUS

Debate Opens in Senate With Majority Report.

CUTS AVERAGE 27.64 PER CENT

Unencumbered Single Men to Pay Tax on Incomes Exceeding $3000 Yearly.

Washington, July 19.—An average reduction of 27.64 per cent under the rates of the existing Payne-Aldrich tariff law is proposed by the Democratic tariff bill upon which the senate began general debate, according to the majority report of the finance committee submitted by Senator Simmons, the chairman.

The report also shows that the bill provides rates 4.22 per cent lower than the measure did as it passed the house and that from it, together with other government receipts for the year ending June 30, 1914, there will be an estimated surplus in the treasury of $2,020,000.

Under the house bill the value of free listed imports, on the basis of 1912 importations, was $103,000,000, whereas the Democrats of the senate propose to free list imports valued at $147,367,000.

Upon the basis of the bill being operative for ten months of the fiscal year, the report estimates that the receipts from customs alone under it will be $266,730,000; from income tax for ten months, $58,330,000; corporation tax, $37,000,000; internal revenue, including tax on cotton futures of $5,000,000, $297,000,000, and that the revenue from all other sources will bring the total for the fiscal year to $996,810,000. Disbursements are estimated at $994,790,000.

In analyzing changes in the administrative features of the bill the committee "deemed the amendments of the house entirely too drastic," particularly those authorizing examination of books of foreign manufacturers, a five per cent tariff discount on imports on the American ships and other features which were struck out.

Particular attention is called to the senate provision "designated to furnish the president with power to impose tariff duties of a retaliatory character upon all articles comprised in a specified list," including agricultural products.

"For some years," says the report, "there has been a development of maximum and minimum tariffs abroad, and in not a few instances the government of the United States has been compelled to see its citizens subjected to harsh and discriminating tariff treatment abroad without being able, under the law, to afford relief.

"The tariff act of 1909 recognized this situation and established a general maximum schedule of duties 25 per cent higher than the general or minimum rates of the law. This maximum schedule has proved embarrassing, clumsy and inadequate. No material advantages have been derived from it, but, on the contrary, it has stood in the way of successful commerce with other countries.

"The provision now recommended will, it is believed, place in the hands of the president powers which, though extensive in their sphere, are sufficiently circumscribed to permit of their being exerted within the limits assigned them without disturbing the general fiscal system of the United States."

Of the reduction of the basic exemption from income tax from $4000, as in the house bill, to $3000 for unmarried persons, the report says:

"Your committee reduces the amount of exemption of net income to $3000, and allows, on account of marriage, an additional exemption of $1,000 to either the husband or wife where they are living together, but not to both.

"In the case of a minor child, or children, living with and dependent upon the parent such parent is allowed an additional exemption, of $500 for one minor child, and up to $1000 on account of minor children, except where both parents are taxable, in which case no exemption is allowable on account of children.

By the amendment the lowest possible exemption to any one person would be $3000, and the highest possible exemption to any one person would be $5000. While the amendment may make no wide difference in the volume of revenue derivable from the tax, it is deemed equitable as recognizing the added obligations on account of marriage and children and salutary as emphasizing the family as the unit of our social structure.

PRESIDENT HUERTA.

Mexican Executive Fears American Intervention.

HANDS OFF IN MEXICO, WILSON IDEA

Recognition to Wait on Peace and Elections.

Washington, July 19.—Consideration of the Mexican situation took much of the time of the president and the cabinet at a regular session.

Secretary Bryan had a long conference with the president before the other members arrived. Although reports are coming in from various sources the administration is looking forward to first-hand information from Ambassador Wilson, on his way from Mexico City. It was again authoritatively said that the attitude of the administration still was unchanged.

It was reiterated that the cabinet unanimously was in accord with the president in waiting a return to stable conditions before extending recognition. Several officials said the cabinet had from the beginning been of the opinion that the changing conditions of Mexican politics warranted the "hands off" policy for some time to come.

Secretary Bryan authorized the assertion that he would cancel any lecture engagement which would conflict with the conferences next week he and the president will have with Ambassador Wilson.

Some of the members of the cabinet were not inclined to think any action would be taken following Ambassador Wilson's conference, and reiterated the belief that until elections were held in Mexico and an appearance of peace was in sight formal recognition probably would be withheld.

BITTEN BY SNAKE IN BED

Branchville, N. J., Couple Went to Sleep With a Copperhead.

Branchville, N. J., July 19.—When Mrs. Buscher with a cry of pain awakened her husband during the night, he told her to "forget it and go to sleep again."

She did so, but shortly afterward started again and was wide awake, with a stinging sensation in her knee. The first pain had been in her feet.

Buscher lighted a lamp and found that a copperhead snake two feet long had bitten his wife twice. Buscher killed the snake and sent for Dr. Edward A. Ayers, of Branchville, who said that the bites would not prove fatal.

Buscher believes that the snake had been in the house some time and that while the bed was so open it crawled into a fold of the sheet.

WRECK VICTIM CUTS THROAT

Engineman First Asked the Spectators to Kill Him.

Decatur, Ala., July 19.—Pinned beneath an overturned locomotive, Huston Fleming, an engineman, put an end to his tortures by cutting his own throat when the spectators of his plight refused his request to kill him.

Fleming, with Floyd Hamlin, an air inspector, was testing a new locomotive in the Louisville & Nashville yards when it was hurled from the tracks by a switch engine and overturned. Hamlin died.

FOUR DEAD IN MINE CAVE-IN

Two Others Fatally Injured by Debris at Bottom of Shaft.

Indiana, Pa., July 19.—Four men were instantly killed and two others probably fatally injured when a mine drainage shaft caved in at Ernest, five miles from here.

The men were sinking a new shaft, which was to be used to drain water from the mines. The cave-in took place while the men were at the bottom of the shaft. It required three hours to dig the bodies out.

Fisherman Drowned. Bordentown, N. J., July 19.—William Hutchinson Bergens, a resident of Cranbury, was found drowned in the Braidford lake. It is thought he fell out of a boat while fishing.

It was, in fact, a French penny, which attracted his attention, therefore, with a motion of my forefinger and indicated the pile of coins with a wave of my hand, which was meant to say 'What is this you have given me?' The waiter bent gracefully forward, scooped up my change with a practiced hand and with a polite 'I thank you, sir,' moved swiftly away. Next time I'll give the language of signs a miss."

SENATE BARS OUT ATTACK ON BRYAN

Tables Resolution Aimed at Lecture Tour.

BRISTOW SHOUTS DEFIANCE

Kansas Senator Declares People Won't Forget Bryan's Neglect of His Office.

Washington, July 19.—The senate Democrats succeeded, without debate, in tabling Senator Bristow's resolution, aimed at Secretary Bryan's proposed six-week lecture tour.

The resolution would have called on President Wilson to advise the senate what salary would be sufficient to keep Mr. Bryan continuously at his post, and was prompted by the secretary's announcement that he was obliged to augment his pay of $12,000 a year by lectures to meet his living expenses.

Senators Poindexter and Borah voted with the Democrats to table the resolution. The vote was 41 to 29. As the vote was announced, Senator Bristow faced the Democratic senators and declared:

"You may shut off debate in the senate, but you cannot convince the American people that a secretary of state may neglect the duties of his office for three months of a year."

Vice President Marshall ruled Bristow out of order. "It would be just as reasonable for the attorney general to take three months off a year to practice law," shouted the Kansas Progressive Republican, who refused to be silenced. "I think there is a condition before the country that should demand the attention of congress and the administration in power."

"Are you really apprehensive," interrupted Senator Vardaman, a Democrat, "that the business of the state department will suffer because Mr. Bryan is occasionally away?"

"It has been said, since this discussion arose," retorted Bristow, "that the state department is better off with the secretary away than with him here. But I believe if the secretary would give to the problems before him the powers of his great intellect, he could perform a great service to the country. Whether subordinates in his department are better fitted to attend to the duties than he, I do not know."

Senator Fall suggested that if Secretary Bryan had remained at his post the senate might have had an answer to its resolution of April 24, asking for the amount of damages to victims of Mexican troubles.

The debate developed into a sharp exchange between Bristow and Senator Ashurst, Democrat, of Arizona, who the latter read a letter intended to show that Bristow, years ago, had expressed a wish to be an isthmian canal commissioner, with the suggestion that he need not spend much time "on the job."

"Since I have been a member of the senate," shouted Bristow, shaking his finger at Ashurst, "I have not spent $100 of the funds of the United States to carry telegrams to my constituents as has the senator from Arizona, many of which should have been paid for by himself."

Senator Ashurst denied the charge absolutely and "dared" Bristow to produce the proofs. The whole allegation, he replied, was "wholly baseless and without foundation."

Bristow reiterated that "the senator has sent at public expense telegrams pertaining to private business."

The letter which precipitated the row was one Bristow had written to Senator Chester I. Long, on May 27, 1905.

"I think I would like to have one of those advisory places on the canal commission," it said. "They pay $7500 and require a visit to the isthmus once in three months. I could hold it and live in Kansas, being there at least half my time, and when the fight got hot I could resign."

BRYAN'S PAY AS LECTURER

Receives $250 For Each Speech and Half Receipts Over $500.

Washington, July 19.—On the eve of his departure for his summer speaking tour, Secretary of State Bryan took occasion, to deny published insinuations that he was using a connection with the Winona Conference and Assembly of Winona to further his own business of lecturing.

Mr. Bryan denied that he is president of this association, under the auspices of which he is to deliver on Sunday afternoon his first speech of the summer mid-western series.

Mr. Bryan told the newspaper men that by his speech at Mountain Lake park on Thursday he made $250 and expenses. Last summer he said his Chautauque receipts averaged $250 for each speech delivered. The usual arrangement, according to Mr. Bryan, is that he takes the first $250 brought in at the gate, the Chautauque association takes the next $250 paid in and then he and the association split even all the rest.

Seth Low Meets Managers to Back Up Trainmen's Side.

New York, July 19.—Seth Low, president of the National Civic Federation, went before the managers of the eastern railroads and back up the attitude of the employees in their contention that the managers acted in bad faith in asking that their demands, as well as the demands of the men, be arbitrated.

In spite of charges and counter-charges which are being made, the belief is prevalent that all difficulties will be met as soon as the board of arbitration appointed by President Wilson meets.

W. G. Lee and A. B. Garretson, the heads respectively of the trainmen's and conductors' organizations, made public the text of a bulletin being sent to the $4,000 members of the unions advising them of the state of things. It recites the demands of the railroads for arbitration and certain grievances and continues:

"It is needless to say that no arbitration embodying these propositions will even be considered, and if insisted upon by the management, only one result can follow, namely: The setting of the hour for retirements from the service. Local chairmen will remain out of duty until otherwise instructed by their general chairman or the undersigned, and will remain where communication from their general chairman by wire or letter will reach them promptly."

Statement That He Will Be Active Candidate For Nomination

Lansing, Mich., July 19.—Michigan, the state which made it possible for the country to know just how seldom Colonel Roosevelt took a mint julep, has now been chosen as the ground from which the colonel's candidacy for president on the Republican ticket in 1916 is forecasted.

In addressing the state bar association at Lansing United States Senator McCumber, of North Dakota, declared:

"I believe that Colonel Roosevelt's friends are planning to enter his name in the primaries in the various states and he will become an active candidate for the nomination for president on the Republican ticket."

TELLS PLOT TO BRIBE GOMPERS

Mulhall Says Van Cleave Nearly Fell Into Trap.

BRANDENBURG IN SCHEME

Lobbyist Declares Manufacturers' Association Agents Are Trying to Stare Him Out of Countenance.

Washington, July 19.—Martin M. Mulhall gave the senate lobby investigating committee his story of the alleged effort in 1907 or 1908 to bribe Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, to desert the cause of labor and support the policies advocated by the National Association of Manufacturers, which Mulhall represented.

Mulhall admitted that he had no positive information that an attempt to bribe Gompers had actually been made; but he said Atherton Brownell, of New York, had outlined the plans to him and had told him of what was to be done.

The committee opened the Gompers incident when newspaper clippings appeared showing that Gompers had made the bribery charges before a court in 1908, and that President Van Cleave, of the Manufacturers' association, had denied all connection with them. Mulhall said he had been referred by Van Cleave and Schwedman to Mr. Brownell, in New York, who purported to be conducting a publicity bureau for the association.

Brownell told him, he said, that a man named Brandenburg was following Gompers; that they had a plan fixed up by which they expected to "get" the labor leader; and that they were positive they could not fail. Mulhall said he warned them they would not succeed, and later advised Van Cleave to the same effect.

Van Cleave left New York suddenly, the witness said, after telling him that he had nearly "fallen into a trap."

"He said they wanted him to go down town to meet those people, but he got a tip not to go," added Mulhall. "He told me he thought Brownell had more sense than to go into a trap of that kind."

This was the extent of Mulhall's knowledge of the matter, but he insisted that from the previous information he had he knew a plan had been on foot to force Gompers into signing a document that would insure his future action.

Proceedings were running smoothly, when Robert McCarter, attorney for the Manufacturers' association, tried to interrupt and ask Mulhall a question. The committee has thus far permitted no questioning by outside attorneys.

"I refuse to answer any questions from that man," shouted Mulhall. "Further, I want to tell the committee that those men at that table have kept some one there continually to stare steadily at me while I have been on the stand. I think it is a contemptible trick. The ex-president (John Kirby, Jr.) relieved Mr. Emery at the job a little while ago."

How the National Association of Manufacturers proposed to concentrate its energies if necessary for the reelection of former Speaker Cannon in the 1908 campaign was described in one of the first of the "Mulhall letters" brought before the committee.

The letter was written to Mulhall by Mr. Schwedman, secretary of the manufacturers, on Aug. 17, 1908, and said all energies would be concentrated in Cannon's district "if there is the slightest occasion for it." A letter from Mulhall to former Representative Lonsdale, of New Jersey, said the manufacturers had field workers out in the campaign in many New Jersey, Pennsylvania and Indiana districts. Senator Reed questioned Mulhall about Congressman Bartholdt.

"I always understood Schwedman and Van Cleave looked after Bartholdt and that the brewery interests helped," replied Mulhall.

PATERSON SILK STRIKE AT END

The Weavers Vote to Resume. Loss $3,000,000.

Paterson, N. J., July 19.—The break in the ranks of the silk mill strikers after the announcement that "Big Bill" Haywood was physically unable to continue leadership, is construed by the mill owners as meaning the end of their five months' trouble with their factory hands.

It is estimated that $2,000,000 in wages has been lost, while the manufacturers are about $1,000,000 out of pocket.

Twenty-five hundred silk weavers held a mass meeting and adopted resolutions urging the abandonment of the long-drawn-out strike and calling for the return of the strikers at the best terms they could negotiate with the employers.

The strike began on Feb. 25, when 17,500 hands were called out. The first break in the strikers' ranks occurred three weeks ago, when the ribbon and broad silk branches succeeded in operating to full capacity. The dyers, however, held firm until Thursday, when some of them returned, and it was predicted that the entire body of 3500 would be back at the vats this week.

Manufacturers say that the season now lost was the most promising in orders of any spring and summer since 1907.

CAUGHT IN FLY WHEEL

Boy Has Narrow Escape. Twenty-three Stitches to Dress Wound.

Charles Harbaugh, who is employed at the knitting mills, at Emmitsburg, met with a painful injury this week. The accident occurred just at noon. H. F. Finneyfrock, local manager of the mills, was called to the phone just at 12 o'clock and asked Mr. Harbaugh to stop the engine. The boy leaned across the engine—which is a compound cylinder gasoline type—and turned off the batteries, when a steel pin in the friction clutch caught in his clothing and threw him violently to the floor.

It is probably due to the fact that the current of electricity was turned off that the boy was not fatally injured as the weight of his body prevented the fly wheels from carrying him around.

Mr. Finneyfrock hurried to the lad's aid and summoned Drs. Brawner and Jamison who responded quickly and dressed the wound—a gash on the side of the leg that required 23 stitches to close.

At present Mr. Harbaugh is doing well at his home about a mile from Emmitsburg.

Two Acres to be Devoted to Park in Littlestown.

At a meeting of the council Israel Crouse offered the borough two acres of ground, in the rear of his residence on East King street, and it was accepted. Mr. Crouse contemplates laying out building lots adjoining the park and will divide the profits with the borough so as to reimburse them for opening a street, between the Crouse and Wisler properties, to the plot in the rear.

IMPORTANT TO DAIRYMEN.
It looks very much as if the day was not far distant when all dairymen furnishing milk to cities of any considerable size would be compelled to test their cows yearly for the detection of tuberculosis. The supreme court of the United States has affirmed the decision of a lower court granting municipalities the right of insisting on this test, and this gives the necessary foundation. The wise dairyman who looks to the future of his business will not only take the steps necessary to eradicate the disease, but will look carefully to the conditions under which his cows are kept so as to reduce to a minimum the likelihood of the development of the disease. And he will be justified in advertising his milk as from tuberculosis tested cows.

POOR MANAGEMENT.
The Nebraska College of Agriculture last year sent out inquiries to 2,000 farmers who are engaged in the growing of wheat and found that with but few exceptions they burned their straw. The station officials say that in effect these farmers, as well as thousands of others who follow the same practice in Missouri, Kansas and Oklahoma, are guilty of arson and are directly impairing the productivity and physical quality of their soils. The station discourages this practice and urges the use of the straw as a roughage for winter feeding, as a fertilizer, as a preventive of soil blowing, to improve the drainage, to loosen heavy and adhesive soils and for bedding.

A PRACTICAL EXPERIMENT.
No more needed or practical experiment could be conducted by the class in agriculture in many sections than that of making a test of alfalfa-growing. Directions best suited to the climatic and soil conditions of any locality would be gladly furnished by the directors of the state agricultural college. Rightly conducted, such an experiment would furnish just the data that dozens of farmers in the territory tributary to the school would be only too glad to get. The experiment would unquestionably prove both practical and interesting.

SOME ALFALFA EXPERIMENTS.

In view of the widespread as well as increasing interest in the subject of alfalfa growing it is worth giving a summary in this department of bulletin No. 136, which has been lately issued by the Nebraska experiment station and tells of the experience of farmers in different parts of the state in getting a start with this valuable legume. Twelve farmers co-operated in the work, carrying it on according to suggestions and directions of the station directors. In this co-operative experimental work it was the aim to try out and compare the effect of three treatments in securing a stand of alfalfa and on subsequent growth--first, liquid nitrogen cultures sent out by the United States department of agriculture; second, soil from well established alfalfa fields, and, third, farm manure. Owing to the prevalence of drought and grasshoppers during the years 1910 and 1911 there was a failure on the part of some of the co-operators to get a stand, but the results secured by those who did get a stand brought out the following conclusions: That the use of farm manure in proper amounts and properly applied is to be strongly recommended, that where difficulty is experienced in getting a stand the soil should be inoculated and that inoculation with soil from a well established alfalfa field or sweet clover patch gave uniformly better results than were secured by the use of liquid cultures.

Sweet peas are hardy and may be sown just as soon as the soil warms up enough to insure germination. It is well to have the plants deep rooted, and for this reason the seed should be planted at the bottom of a trench five or six inches deep, with the bottom made mellow and covered with a couple of inches of soil. When the peas have germinated and come through the soil the trench should be gradually filled with mellow earth. The soil should be rich and mellow, the peas should be watered frequently if it becomes dry, and the blossoms should be picked regularly. This treatment will insure a maximum amount of bloom.
